BUENOS AIRES STRIKERS AND POLICE BATTLE

Reports Show Hundreds of Casualties

BULLETIN.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 10.—By The Associated Press.—At 11 o'clock tonight battles between strikers and police were raging in all parts of the city. There was a particularly sharp conflict in front of the post office. If the fighting spreads in this district it probably will be necessary to close the cable offices. Several attempts were made tonight to capture the first district police station, one block from the American consulate. It is impossible at this time to make any calculation of the number of casualties.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 10.—By The Associated Press.—General Dellepiane, commander of the forces opposing the strikers, has assumed a military dictatorship and has taken over all the forces of the government. This action, it explained in no wise constitutes a measure unfriendly to President Iroygen.

General Dellepiane's assumption of dictatorial powers followed two serious attempts by strikers to capture police headquarters. His supporters say he is exerting all the forces at his disposal for, and not against the government.

According to General Dellelane's aides, he took action because of the government's reluctance to use force sufficient to end the trouble. There was an anarchist outbreak today at Mar de Plata, a fashionable bathing resort 230 miles southeast of Buenos Aires. The anarchists attempted to occupy the police station but were repulsed when forces were landed from the Cruiser San Martin.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 10.—By The Associated Press. — Several persons were killed in clashes between strikers and government forces today and the government in view of the increasing gravity of the situation, decided to adopt the most severe measures to bring about normal conditions. The soldiers and police were instructed to shoot whenever necessary and to put down outbreaks of violence regardless of the cost in blood. The regional federation has ordered that the general strike be continued indefinitely and has instructed its members to oppose all acts of aggression by the government forces under the command of General Dellepiane, who has about 4,000 men.

To supplement the troops and police leaders of the radical party today organized a white guard of 10,000 and tonight marines and sailors from the Cruiser Garibaldi disembarked to aid in patrolling the city.

The strikers began the day by shooting into every business hause which attempted to open and after the shops had closed devoted their energies to burning privately owned automibiles. A calvary patrol this afternoon had a pitched battle with a group of Russians who had sacked a gun shop. Calvary has taken over the municipal slaughter house to insure a proper distribution of meat. This the strikers had tried to prevent.

Train Service Stopped.

At three o'clock this afternoon the railways announced that not a train was running in the Republic. The only newspaper permitted to circulate today was La Vanguardia, the Socialist organ, other newspapers being burned by the strikers as fast as they appeared The newspaper offices are guarded by national police.

Police reports indicate that more than 100 persons were killed in the affrays of yesterday and last night. The chief of police this afternoon placarded the city asking the citizens and remain calm and declaring that the forces now in the capital will be able to bring about normal conditions within a short time. He also issued a decree ordering women to remain off the streets as the police were unable to guarantee them protection.

The newspapers say the strike is the outcome of a Bolshevik revoluntinary movement by foreign agitators, who rush thru the streets in taxicabs bearing red flags. These agitators bear no resemblance to the Spaniards, Italians or Argentinans who compose the bulk of the laboring class. The police make no attempt to halt the speeding agitators or to compel a removal of the red flags.

Famous as one of the world's most beautiful cities, Buenos Aires in the past twenty four hours has assumed the apearence of a city stricken with some terrible pestilence. The streets are littered with the wreckage of vehicles, garbage and paper. Corrugated steel shutters cover the windows of the business houses, all of which are closed Sentinels with rifles over their shoulders stand at the street crossings and the national mounted police ride thru the streets with their rifles slung on their saddle pommels and with full cartridge belts.

Millions of Letters To Men Overseas Are Undelivered

WASHINGTON, JAN. 10. — From eight to ten carloads of mail for American soldiers are undelivered in France, Second Assistant Postmaster General Praeger told the senate postoffice committee today and "thousands and probably millions" of letters addressed to the men overseas will arrive in New York soon to be sent to the dead letter office where an attempt will be made to return them to the writers. Blame for the failure to deliver this mail was placed on the war department by Mr. Prager who again explained that the army authorities handle all soldiers' mail in France the postoffice department delivering outgoing mail at Hoboken and receiving returning mail at the French ports.

Mr. Praeger said one way to improve conditions overseas would be to send a force of experienced mail clerks to France to deliver the mail to the soldiers.

Members of the committee sought to ascertain whether there was any delay in French ports in handling mail coming to this country.

"The trouble does not lie at the ports," declared Mr. Praeger. "It lies in the interior. The mail gets tied up somewhere between army headquarters and censors and the ports."

Asked what facilities the war department had for handling mail, Mr. Praeger said about fifty experienced mail clerks were sent by the department overseas while the remainder of necessary force for this work was made up of inexperienced men. The second assistant postmaster general appeared before the committee to urge appropriations of $3,000,000 for the maintenance and development of the aerial mail service.

Extension of the present mail service between Washington and New York sa as to connect Boston with Aalanta is planned, Mr. Praeger said. In addition it is also proposed to establish routes connecting New York and Omaha, Neb., via Chicago, and Boston with Detroit thru Albany and Buffalo.

TAKE UP WAR EXCESS PROFITS

WASHINGTON, JAN. 10—War excess profits and insurance company taxes were considred today by senate and house conferees on the war revenue bill.

A compromise on the war excess profits rates was proposed with the house managers advocating somewhat higher rates than the senate provided, and, altho action was deferred today the conferees hope for a prompt agreement on this section which is estimated to raise $2,400,000,000 of the total $4,000,000,000 tax levy planned this year. The house conferees urged an increase in the thirty and sixty per cent rates on corporation incomes under the war excess profits plan for 1919.

An agreement on insurance taxes was reached by the conferees when the senate managers yielded the senate amendment providing for a twelve per cent tax on income of life and mutual insurance companies and accepted the original house provision for taxation of life, fire, marine, casualty and other insurance companies based on the premium issued.

The house insurance rates were estimated to raise $12,000,000 and the senate plan about $10,000,000.

HOPE TO REACH AGREEMENT SOON

PARIS, JAN. 10.—(Havas)—President Wilson before he returns to the United States will reach an agreement with entente representatives as to certain fundamental questions, according to the Gaulois. These questions concern the new boundary between France and Germany, indemnities and reparations and Balkan and Near Eastern matters.

The president has accepted an invitation to attend a luncheon to be given by the French senate between January 15 and January 20.

President Poincare the foreign ambassadors here, senators and members of the government will be among the guests.

Rear-Admiral Grayson the president's physician is said to have ordered him to take a complete rest for forty-eight hours after his return from Italy.

INVESTIGATION POSTPONED.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Col. Henry D. Lindley, new director of the war risk insurance bureau, told the house Rules Committee today that the organization had not functioned properly, but that now for the first time authority was concentrated in the director, where it belonged.

After he had outlined at length some of the improvements to be made the committee agreed unanimously to await development of his plans before taking steps toward an investigation.

IOWA GOVERNOR ASSAILS PRESENT ADMINISTRATION

Others Attack Democrats Before Republican Committee

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Criticising the Democratic national administration for its extravagance and inefficiency and referring to W. G. McAdoo, federal director of railroads as the "crown prince" Governor W. L. Harding, speaking before the Republican national committeee here today called for the immediate return of railroads to their owners.

"This is too big and too great a country to be ruled by one corner of it," said Governor Harding. "I hope the Republican congress will see that the railroads are returned to their owners without delay."

Members of the committee applauded speeches attacking the Democratic administration for what was termed its Socialistic tendencies and demanding that the railroads be returned to their owners without unnecessary delay. Scathing denunciation of Bolshevism in every form was the keynote of a majority of the address

Acting on a suggestion made by Chairman Will H. Hays the committee decided to appeal to the Republicans of the country to erect a permanent memorial to Theodore Roosevelt. It is planned to raise the necessary funds by popular subscription.

The character of the memorial will be decided upon by a special committee of which W. B. Thompson of Yonkers, N. Y., is chairman.

Mourn Death of Roosevelt.

After representatives from every state had delivered addresses on death of Roosevelt the committee by a rising vote adopted memorial resolutions presented by National Committeman John T. King of Connecticut. The resolution said in part:

"The Republican Party mourns the passing of Theodore Roosevelt. In an hour of difficulty and danger, he has falen like a warrior in battle, leaving a place in national and international leadership which cannot be filled.

"The truest tribute it is possible to pay his memory is in the pledge that his party, the Republican Party shall remain true to the ideals of Americanism and of special advancementwith which his name will forever be linked and for which thruout his useful career he struggled with such heroic and inspiring ardor and devotion.

"History will write his name high on the role of those, who not only of this nation but of all the modern world, wrought greatly in humanity's behalf.

"All he had to give he gave to his country His gospel of Americanism is today the heritage of his countrymen."

The committee reaffirmed the party's endorsement of woman suffrage and urged congress to pass the constitutional amendment for suffrage and Republican state legislatures to ratify the same when it is submitted for action.

Speaks of Recent Victories.

Governor Beeckman of Rhode Island referred to the recent victory of the Republicans in the congressional elections and said that the people of the north were tired of paying 90 per cent of the taxes and having it expended by the minority of the south which dominated the Democratic national administration.

Governor Burnquist of Minnesota denouced Bolshevikism anarchy and Socialism and said the hope of the country for the future was in the election of a Republican president. He spoke of the activity of the non-partisan league in the northwest and said the sympathy of the Democratic party had been with that Socialistic organization.

Rev. C. R. Maxwell, formerly a lecturer of the Non-Partisan League asked Chairman Hays to urge congress to make an investigation of the league's activities in the northwest.

Chairman Hays was igven a vote of confidence by the members and authorized to name an executive and other committees at his discretion.

Mrs. McCormick Reports.

Mrs. Medill McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the woman's executive committee read a long report outlining plans for woman's organizations in every state and for the active participation of the women in the national affairs of the party in the future.

The committee settled a contest over the national committeeship in Louisiana which has been pending since the last Republican national convention in 1916, by seating Emil Kuntz, a negro.

The names of possible candidates for president most persistently mentioned in informal gossip today were General John J. Pershing, General Leonard Wood, Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio and Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

The members of the committee declared it was to early to discuss the claims of candidates.

G.O.P. Leaders Boom Lowden For President

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Preliminary steps toward entering Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president were taken at a conference of state party leaders held here today. The meeting was called by Chairman Frank L. Smith of Dwight, chairman of the Republican state committee and attended by Congressman W. B. McKinley of Champaign, Congressman Clifford Ireland of Peoria, Congressman Chindblom of Chicago, State Treasurer Fred E. Sterling, Secretary of State Louis Emmerson, State Auditor Andrew Russel, David Shanahan, speaker of the Illinois house of representatives and thirty others.

Governor Lowden will be asked by the party leaders to announce himself a candidate for president at an early date.

After the meeting Chairman Frank L. Smith issued a statement which read in part:

"Illinois Republicans from all sections of the state attended the meeting and it was clearly indicated that the sentiment of those present was for the nomination of Governor Lowden for president by the Republican national convention in 1920.

"The expression of the conference was unanimous that definite and formal action shall be taken at the proper time and in such manner as will assure the Republicans of other states that Illinois desires and expects Governor Lowden to be made the Republican presidential nominee."

BRITISH HONOR AMBASSADOR DAVIS

LONDON, —an. 10.—The British branch of the pilgrims which, according to tradition is the first public organization in England to entertain new American ambassadors today had John W. Davis, the new American ambassador as their guest at a luncheon. A distinguished assemblage of British and American public men was present.

Mr. Davis in replying to a toast to his health said he could not "let slip this opportunity to voice for the people of the United States their deep appreciatin of the splendid reception Great Britain had just given to their chief magistrate and the gracious hospitality of their majestys the King and Queen."

Earl Curzon, who has charge of the British foreign office during the absence of Secretary Balfour, in proposing the health of Mr. Davis, said:

"Peace is the greatest constructive task ever placed upon the shoulders of any constructive statesman. That task can only be successfully confronted if the American and British nations stand side by side to shoulder the burden. It is our strongest aspiration that from the discussion at Pari will emerge a league of nations. But even supposing that the dream fails of fulfillment there is another league which must emerge—a league of English speaking nations. It is to that league that the world will have to look in the future as the guardian and trustee of the peoples and frontiers of the new nationalities now struggling into existence."

WASHINGTON, JAN. 10.—In an effort to speed up its work the house today met earlier than usual and adjourned tonight with an agreement for a night session tomorrow if that should prove necessary to pass the rivers and harbors appropriation bill consideration of which began this morning.

Three of the big appropriations in the measure were approved today. They were $2,515,000 for purchase of the Delaware & Chesapeake Canal and $485,000 for changing it from a lock to a sea level waterway of 12 foot depth, $2,500,000 for continuing the deepening of the Delaware river to 35 feet between Philadelphia and its mouth and $4,000,000 for continuing the work on the East River, New York.

It was announced that he will be succeeded by Ransom M. Calkins, former traffic manager of this road.

General Smuts Gives Views On Peace League

LONDON, Jan. 10.—In a pamphlet published today entitled "a league of nations, a program for the peace conference," General Jan Christian Smuts, former member of the British war cabinet says it is necessary to view a league of nations not only as a possible means to prevent future wars, but as a great organ for the orderly and peaceful life of civilization and as the foundation of a new international system.

"The only statesmanlike course," General Smuts continues, "is to make the league of nations reversionary, in the broader sense of the three empires, Russia, Austria and Turkey, whose people now are deficient in self-government. The peace conference therefore should look upon the formation of a league of nations as its prime task and should look upon itself as the first meeting of the league.

No Annexations.

"Regarding the settlement of affairs in Russia, Austria and Turkey there should be no annexation of any of these territories. Finland, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and Jugo-Slavia will probably be capable of statehood and should be recognized as independent states from the beginning.

"The trans-Caucasian or trans-Caspian provinces of Russia probably will require some external authority to steady their administration. Probably this will be lower Mesopotamia, Lebanon and Syria while other cases, such as Palestine and the Armenian Vilayete, would require administration to a very large extent by external authority."

Describing the working of the league, General Smuts said that the European empires will all disappear and that Germany will become a truly federal democratic state. States such as Finland, Poland and Bohemia will arise under the league.

"In the league of nations, all states should be considered equal and should vote as states, whatver the number of their representatives delegated to the general conference of constituent states. Besides the conference there must be a small council composed of thest five great powers:

"The British Empire, the United States, France, Italy and Japan. Each of these will nominate permanent members to the council, Germany being added when she has a stable democratic government.

ISSUE PROCLAMATION AGAINST DIE FREIHEIT

BERLIN, Thursday, Jan. 9.—(By The Associated Press.)—The government today issued a proclamation attacking Die Freiheit for its continued denunciations of the Ebert-Scheidemann cabinet, while at the same time attempting to act as negotiating agent for the radicals who are plotting to overthrow the government. The proclamation accused the newspaper not only of publishing a vicious and distorted account of the street fighting and of charging the government troops with needless brutality, but also of engaging in double dealing and treachery in sending its henchmen including Haase, Dittmann, Barth and Breitscheid to act as emissaries for the Spartacans.

The fact that the former cabinet member and leader of the independents has been unable to prevent his party's newspaper from publishing the Spartacans' appeals and otherwise giving the insurgents active journalistic aid is now generally interpreted as proving that the Haase cohorts are determined upon a campaign of ruin.

The civic elements in Berlin are giving Gustav Noske, who has charge of the government's defensive measures their active support and the governmental recruiting offices are busy signing up volunteers.

The government troops have succeeded in recovering the big provision warehouse in the Kopenickerstrasse and the Templehof which the Spartacans had occupied.

At four o'colck this afternoon the big newspaper plants and the offices of the Wolff Bureau were still in the hands of the insurgents.

The grave was guarded by a soldier who stood at salute during the few minutes the wodow and son were there.

HEALTH CONDITIONS BETTER

Washington, Jan. 10.—Health conditions in the army at home showed continued improvement during the week ending Jan. 3, with influenza and pneumonia still on the decline.

Establishment of Secretary of Transportation Opposed

WASHINGTON, JAN. 10.—Attitudes of shippers' interests, railroad securities owners and state commissions towards railway legislation became known in part here today in advance of their presentation by representatives of the various interests to the senate interstate commerce committee next week. The shippers oppose establishment of a secretary of transportation and federal incorporation of railroad companies as advocated by railway executives and propose the following:

Rates sufficiently liberal to guarantee proper maintenance of railways and ample returns to security holders;

Government regulation by the interstate commerce commission, maintenance of the functions of the state commissions;

Common use of terminals and other facilities;

Cooperation among railways to promote efficiency of service, but with pooling and unification agreements subject to the interstate commerce commission and restoration of the roads to private ownership as soon as remedial legislation has been enacted.

Railroad security owners oppose the five year extension of government control and urge return of the roads to private management after enactment of legislation hastening the way for partial unification. They are opposed also to the executives' plans for creating a secretary of transportation and for federal incorporation of railroads.

Proposals Made.

Among the prosposals of the state railroad commission are that state governments should retain their authority over interstate rates and regulations, that regional rate commissions should be created to assist the interstate commerce commission and that the federal commission and state commissions cooperate in all matters of railway regulation. They oppose the plan for a secretary of transportation and federal incorporation and insist that the so-called "twilight zone" of authority between federal and state governments does not truly exist.

The proposed legislative programs of these interests will be presented to the senate committee next week.

It was announced here tonight that association of owners of railroad securities, and the national industrial traffic league had reached a partial agreement on recommendations for return of the railroads to private management.

Thorne Represents Shippers.

Clifford Thorne, representing shippers' interests gave out a statement saying that altho the railroad administration had tried worthily to eliminate rate injustices caused by the general advance, "many orders have been issued that are arbitrary and unjust," without granting shippers a hearing. He urged that congress immediately restore the rate suspension powers of the interstate commerce commission; eliminate from the railroad control act "the clause which states that the orders of the president may supersede the common law and the statutes of the state and federal governments" and require the director general to pay final judgmeents rendered against common carriers.

Interstate commerce commissioner Clark again testifying before the senate interstate commerce committee today, explained in answer to a question by Senator Lewis of Illinois that the commission opposing extension of government control has not been influenced by the thought that the commission might be abolished or its powers curtailed.

PLAN CONSECUTIVE CONGRESSES.

New York, Jan. 10.—Plans for a series of nine consecutive "congresses" in behalf of a league of nations, to be held in New York, Boston, Chicago, Minneapolis, Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Kansas City, Mo., and Atlanta, Ga., beginning Feb. 5 and ending on February 28 were announced here today by the league to enforce peace.

M'ADOO ON WAY TO WESTERN HOME

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 10.—Describing his position as Director General of Railroads as a "hot poker", William G. McAdoo, enroute to California where he will begin his return to private life, made a brief speech to several hundred Santa Fe employes here today.

"As Director General I have been handing you boys increased wages and an eight hour day, while I have ben getting $1 a year and an eighteen hour day," said Mr. McAdoo. "I must go back to private life—I am fading officialy——"

"How about 1920?" asked a voice in the crowd.

NO END IN SIGHT FOR SETTLEMENT OF MARINE STRIKE

Leaders Say They are Ready for Fight to Finish

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—No hope of an early settlement of the strike which has paralyzed the Port of New York for two days was apparent tonight. Leaders of the 16,000 workers on tugs, lighters and ferry boats declared emphatically that they were prepared for a finish fight. Their employers, members of the New York Boat Owners' Association were equaly emphatic in their assertion that they never would yield to the demand for an eight hour day.

The visit to the city late today of Secretary of War Baker led to the hope that his influence might result in an adjustment, but the hope was short-lived. When the secretary left tonight for Ottawa, where he will speak tomorrow night, he had given no intimation that the war department would take a hand in the controversy.

A. H. Smith, regional director of railroads, apparently has failed in his effort to arrange an armistice of from 48 to 72 hours in the belief that if the operations were resumed the differences could be composed by conciliation. The most serious development of the day was the decision of the strike committee to revoke all exemptions previously made. This action called out men employed on fire boats and those runing to islands on which are located municipal charitable and reform institutions.

Fear Food Shortage.

There was no actual shortage today of either food or coal because of the strike but it was realized that the situation threatens menacing probabilities. If the strike is not speedily ended it will result in complete paralysis of subway, elevated and surface lines.

After a meeting of the boat owners at the Maritime Exchange it was announced that they were prepared to offer their men an average wage increase of approximately twenty per cent. They insisted, however, that working conditions should continue until further notice.

Secretary of War Baker left tonight for Ottawa after a long conference with army officers in reference to the harbor strike. The indications were that the war department would take no hand in the controversy at the present inasmuch as there has been no serious delay in the debarkation of troops and the movement of supplies to France.

Await Word from Wilson.

Washington, Jan. 10—Further government action to end the strike of marine workers which has tied up shipping in New York harbor awaited word tonight from President Wilson in Paris.

Urgent reports on the situation suggesting that the president take action to prevent possible famine in the city and disorganization of export movement to the army overseas were sent to him by the department of labor and the executive offices of the white house, after government representatives in New York had failed in efforts to compose the differences betwen the boat owners and their employes. It was said that the president's personal influence with the workers was counted on to induce a resumption of work pending a settlement of the questions at issue.

Blame for the present crisis was placed on the boat owners by the war labor board in a telegram to Governor Edge of New Jersey replying to his request that the board make another effort to adjust matters.

Basil M. Manly, joint chairman of the board, asserted that the marine workers have offered to arbitrate, but that the boat owners consistenly refused and had abrogated their agreement, thus placing themselves in an "untenable position."

Hope that the strike, at least so far as it affects railroad craft would be ended within 48 hours was expresed tonight by the railroad administration officials who

Chicago is no doubt a very wicked city but it is also a healthy one. The records there show that during the year 1918 there were but 37 deaths from typhoid fever. In view of the figures from some down state cities, this is a very remarkable record.

BACKING LOWDEN FOR PRESIDENT

References have several times been made to the fact that Gov. Lowden can now be classed as a logical Republican candidate for the presidency. A movement to bring his candidacy before the whole U. S. in a definite and forceful way was inaugurated in Chicago yesterday. There were party leaders from all parts of the state and they were of one mind that an organized effort should be made at once for the launching of the Lowden candidacy. Sometimes in the past Illinois has had presidential nominees to offer, behind whom the party in the state could not put its hearty and undivided support. But it is different with Gov. Lowden and he will have the enthusiastic support of the whole party, since the leaders and the rank and file know that he has the poise of character and the experience to qualify him for the higest office in the gift of the people.

FLU EVEN CAUSES INSANITY

Physicians and medical men everywhere have admitted that they know little or nothing about the influenza epidemic. They are at a loss to account for its cause and spread. Nevertheless, a Chicago jury, acting on the advice of a medical expert, recently declared a man insane as the result of the flu. This man killed his wife and four children and then attempted suicide. The records prove that he had been a good provider, lived happily and that there was no motive for his crime.

The medical expert and ailenist, a captain in the army, gave it as his opinion that the insanity was undoubtedly the result of an influenza attack. Certainly this little understood malady has cost the U. S. enormously in both life and happiness.

TEACHING THE WAY TO SUCCEED.

Henry Ford in his newspaper is to make much of the page he will select. His purpose is to point out to his readers the opportunities that lie about them and to advise how they may take advantage of these opportunities. Those who have made some little study of Mr. Ford's characater see in this a real desire to be of service to mankind.

Mr. Ford has been enormously successful himself and is now seeking to give his fellowmen the benefit of his advice and opinions. It remains to be seen whether he can accomplish much in this line of advice giving. Most men successful in a large way financially, when it comes to giving advice take too little account of differences in disposition, ability and environment. They are seldom able, after their long stretch of successful years, to quite sense feeling and ability of those younger years in different walks of life.

There is no royal road to wealth— no common pathway to prosperity to which anyone can point. Financial success is a matter of individual endeavor, just as is true of the development of character.

PERFORMED A SPLENDID SERVICE.

With the closing of the emergency hospital maintained by the Red Cross Association during the influenza epidemic in this city credit should be given many ladies for faithful, self sacrificing work The ladies managing the kitchen and the furnishing of meals to many sick and distressed people, a greater part of them without charge to those unable to care for themselves, was appreciated by many. The ladies labored day after day, sometime under the most discouraging circumstances. There were so many engaged in this work that we cannot name them all and suffice it to say that the city of Jacksonville is under a great debt to them for their efforts.

The committee appointed by the Red Cross association did splendid work, and their chairman Judge E. P. Brockhouse deserves especial credit. The judge devoted many days and nights and was indefatigable in his efforts to relieve the suffering. More than to any other one man Brockhouse deserves the credit of the organization, and for the many weeks devoted a great part of his time to investigation of the disease and alleviation of the hardships many afflicted families underwent.

THE CITY AND ITS FINANCES.

A primary election will be held in March for the selection of candidates for officers and aldermen of the city of Jacksonville when the city will abandon the present commission plan of government and revert to the aldermanic form. There will be great interest in the nominations, the present financial condition of the city making it more than usually important that wise selection be made. There are many problems to be met, but all are hampered and controlled by the one overshadowing shortage, money.

The men who will take up the work must be men with due appreciation of the difficulties in the way, should be men capable but willing to serve the people for the smallest possible remuneration. They must be men who can make the most of what revenue we have and be willing to sacrifice their own time and knowledge for the good of the city. There should be no men with self interests to serve. Will it be possible to secure such men?

There have been few mentioned as candidates as yet, but we presume that as usual the crop of candidates will be sufficiently numerous, but if the change is to be made effective and successful, it is quality, the fitness of the men for the work before them, that should be the one thing sought. Neither religion nor politics should be the only factor in the selection, but the character of the men, their qualifications, their known character and ability to accomplish, the absence of any hobby to ride, or masters, other than the people of the city.

There is but one idea that should be uppermost in the mind of the men to be selected, the interests of the city of Jacksonville and the people it represents. We need men who have some faith in the future of the city, who have interests here that can be developed with the advancement of the city as a whole.

More than ever before in its history Jacksonville needs good intelligent men to so manage its affairs as to guide it out of the slough of despond into which it has drifted. First should be considered its financial standing. We have many thousands of floating indebtedness with hardly a dollar to meet these obligations. That might be remedied by the issuance of bonds, so that the new government could start with a clean slate. Bonds could be issued legally, as we are an hundred thousand dollars or more with in the legal limit of bonded indebtedness and the floating debt acts as a bar to the issuance of more bonds at present, except to fund that debt. This, however would require a vote of the people, but as its sole purpose would be to put that debt into concrete form, with a sinking fund that in a few years would wipe it out altogether, there could be no valid objection. Jacksonville is more fortunate than most cities of the state in that her bonded indebtedness at the present time is comparatively small. Taking this into consideration the financial condition of the city is not as hopeless as it might seem.

Jacksonville has been free from licensed saloons for a number of years but no steps have ever been taken to make up in any other manner the loss of revenue brought about by that change. Many other cities in the state and in the entire county will feel the effects of this lack of revenue in the next few years.

We have all rejoiced at the abolishment of the licensed saloons, but we have not evinced an overwhelming desire to make up this loss of funds by direct taxation or in any other way. The people have been dodging the responsibility. They are glad the evil has been removed from their doors, but they have never even considered paying the price. All great reforms probably bring some hardships. Today the people must face the fact that it takes money to run the city and in these days of high prices the bills must be met, and perhaps the only way is by an increase of taxes paid. If you want an enterprising, flourishing city you must be willing to do your part.

And that brings one back to the point. Will you, Mr. Voter, do your part in voting only for men that you feel confident will rule the city wisely and well, without prejudice, and will you stand back of them with confidence and credit and do your part? There is no set of men wise enough to conduct the affairs of the city successfully without the help of the people most vitally interested.

SOME OTHER THINGS.

Oh, pardners, let us not forever discuss the war and what it costs; it is not wise or sane or clever—we're all convinced war was a frost. We'll have to turn our faces forward, and think of things that should be done, and not be always gazing warward, or making faces at the Hun. When we are resting in the gloaming we may thrash out the fact once more, and give the Tent another combing, and tell old tales of bones and gore. But in the daytime we're expected to put up nineteen kinds of grass; in war days things were much neglected and now reforms should come to pass. The story of the past is written, it cannot be erased by man; words can't restore the countries smitten, or make the dead towns live again. All fellows should be up and doing while daylight hours with us abide; the evening is the time for chewing such muslin as great wars provide. There's now a great demand for labor, in wareroom workshop, mill and grange; but when the men of sword and saber come back there may be quite a change. Then he who did persistent talking, all day, around the village pump, will lose his number and go walking, and keep on till he hits the dump.

NICE WORK WITH CUT PAPER

The cut paper work done by pupils of the 5th, 6th and 7th grades in the several ward schools under the direction of Miss Harriet Sibert, instructor in art, is very interesting. Some of this work done recently is aiding the "I have a chicken in France" movement, fostered by the D. A. R. The children have some very clever work to their credit and have the satisfaction of aiding in a good cause. The interest the members of the D. A. R. have shown in this movement has been previously mentioned.

SERVICE THEME OF ADDRESS BY MR. PONTIUS

Christian Church Minister Talked Before Congregational Brotherhood—Open Forum Program Will be Presented.

The Brotherhood of the Congregational church had a fine meeting last evening. An excellent supper was served by Messrs. A. R. Taylor, J. P. Lippincott and Stanley Post and was much enjoyed.

Frank J. Heinl, for the committee on forum, reported that an endeavor would be made to secure all the speakers who had previously been announced and who were prevented from coming by the ban placed on public gatherings. Mr. Wallace for Jan. 19th and Mr. Atkinson for the 26th had been secured and he hoped by Tuesday to be able to announce the others and it was the desire if speakers can be had to continue the series of addresses until Easter which will come this year about April 20th. Further particulars regarding each of these speakers will be given in due time.

The guest and speaker of the evening was Rev. M. L. Pontius who said he was personally acquainted with Mr. Wallace and much admired the book written by that gentleman on the sociology of the New Testament. Of Judge Carter, a prospective speaker, he also spoke in terms of great praise. He said he was truly glad to see this movement on the part of the Congregational church. If churches are to progress they must leave the beaten paths to a judicious extent and seek to accomplish the greatest good in the best manner. He would cheerfully release any of his own people who desired to hear these addresses and he felt certain other ministers would do the same.

Mr. Pontius then proceeded to deliver a superb address of which only a very brief outline is possible. The keynote was service as the Master said, "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister and to give His life for many."

"Service is the inspiring motive of the century. The cup is to be filled and not drained. Each man is an entity; no two are alike and hence each has his own peculiar work to do and no one can do it for him. Then we can see what a great responsibility rests on each one. We are citizens of the kingdom of Christ and the greatest criticism on us is that so many fail to realize and perform their duty and think somehow they can brace up at the last and get by but the great Maker cannot be deceived.

"God's work must be done by men with clean hearts and pure lives. The stern old prophet said God was weary of the sacrifices of the people of Israel for their hearts were not right. He wants the man who stands four square. A liar cannot write the truth except he copies it nor a libertine write of purity except in the words of another.

"God wants an earnest sacrifice. I love to read the life of Paul and his glowing words. He wants a faithful sacrifice, not a service for a day but for life; men of whom it may be said 'Faithful unto death;' the man who serves man best serves God best. I am glad to see the beginning you have made and if you stand by the consecrated man you have for your minister you will accomplish much."

The will of the late Mrs. Mary H. Waller has been filed for probate in the office of County Clerk G. L. Riggs. The document was drawn May 2, 1916, with George Ball, Elzina Ball and Lucy Ball as witnesses to the signature. Mrs. Waller provided that the homestead shall become the property of her daughter, Mrs. Grassley, for life. If she die without heirs then the property is to pass to the ownership of John H. Waller. If there are heirs they shall share the property jointly with Mr. Waller. All personal property belonging to the estate shall be divided equally between Mrs. Grassley and her brother, J. H. Waller, and they are named to execute the will and to serve without bond.

BACK IN JACKSONVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Withee have arrived in Jacksonville from Ottawa and will lease a home here. Mr. Withee has for a number of years past been construction superintendent for John Cherry. Recently, as already noted, the extensive equipment of Mr. Cherry was brought for storage, as the year does not promise to be a very active one in street paving work. Prices of material are high, the labor situation difficult and with uncertain freight rates contractors for public improvements have a difficult time. As a matter of fact, under these conditions most cities are planning little in paving work this year.

ANNOUNCEMENT

This is to announce that we have taken the agency for the Avery line of motor farming mahcinery.

For some time we have been considering the handling of power farming machinery and tractors in particular. After giving this matter careful investigation we have definitely concluded that there is no line built equal to the Avery.

Avery tractors are built in six sizes—a size for every size farm—no farm is too big or too small for an Avery. Then again the Avery line includes the smallest and lowest priced tractor built—the Avery 5-10 H. P. and also the Avery Motor Cultivator, which with an Avery Tractor, will enable you to more than double your corn crop acreage. The Avery line of motor farming machinery also includes a size plow for every size tractor and a size thresher for every size run.

Another important thing is that the Avery line is backed by one of the biggest and most progressive companies manufacturing motor farming machinery. Avery machines are built complete in the three big Avery factories. They are not assembled machines. This means a lot to you—future service in repair parts is always assured. Come in and talk your motor machinery requirements over with us and let us show you the merits of the Avery line. Avery machines are successfully used in all 48 States and 61 foreign countries.

MURDER RUMORS FOUND TO BE UNTRUE

CEDAR RAIDS, Iowa., Jan. 10.—In the opinion of Coroner E. G. Rawson and his jury who completed their work tonight, Frank Blizek, his wife and their three children were burned to death and not murdered in the fire which destroyed their home early yesterday afternoon near Oxford Junction.

The murder theory developed today when it was found that the bodies were apparently headless. Rumors spread that the family had been murdered by tramps, hoping to find money in the house, but the evidence all pointed to accidental death by fire, the cause of which was unknown.

Coroner Rawson, who is a physician, explained that the heads were burned from the bodies and had not been cut off. Not a shred of evidence was found suggesting violence.

The family has had a tragic history. Blizek's father was killed by a train at Lost Nation, Tenn., ten years ago. Her mind deranged by the shock, the mother shot herself and wounded the other son, Louis. He recovered and is now in France, recovering from gunshot wounds and gas injuries.

Frank Blizek was highly intelligent and prosperous and has been active in all patriotic work of the countryside during the war.

MARVELS OF AVIATION DEVELOPMENT CITED

NEW YORK, Jan 10.—Marvels of aviation development in the United States during the war, "more like a fairy tale than the statement of hard facts which it is in reality," were described here tonight by Major General George O. The radio phone, an invention which enabled American air squadron commanders to direct and control by voice the movements of individual units, who in turn helped allied artillerymen to silence the German guns was extolled as one of the greatest devices of the war.

The production of 14,000 Liberty Motors up to November 11, last, with an equivalent of 5,700,000 horse-power was cited as another remarkable achievement.

General Squier stated that 8,600 aviators had been trained in this country when the armistice was signed, with a toll of fatalities "astonishing few"—about one for every 3,200 hours of flying.

Watch the Little Pimples; They are Nature's Warning

Unsightly and Disfiguring Signals of Bad Blood

Don't close your eyes to the warning which nature gives, when unsightly pimples appear on your face and other parts of the body.

Not only are these pimples and splotches disfiguring, but they lead to serious skin diseases that spread and cause the most discomforting irritation and pain. Sometimes they foretell eczema, boils, blisters, scaly eruptions and other annoyances that burn like flames of fire, and make you feel that your skin is ablaze.

When these symptoms appear on any part of the body, take prompt steps to rid the blood of these disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal as a purifier is S. S. S., the purely vegetable blood medicine, which has been on the market for more than fifty years. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disease, do not expect to be cured by lotions, ointments, salves and other local remedies, as they can not possibly reach the source of the trouble, which is in the blood. Begin taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete history of your case to our chief medical advisor who will give you special instructions, without charge. Write at once to Swift Specific Co., 441 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The "satisfaction guaranteed" to be found in this shop doesn't cost you any money, but it is your protection against the purchase of any inferior food stuffs. All of our meats must come up to the quality qualification and be in a prime, choice condition before they find their way across our counter.

FARM PROPERTY

Now folks, listen, Story's Exchange says our land in this section is too cheap, compared with land selling north and east of us. Our land is too cheap as compared with prices of what it produces—corn, wheat, cattle and hogs, to say nothing of dairy and poultry products. Now are we right? October 1st, next, reflect back to this "ad" and ou will know whether this is true or not. How do we know now? Because people are selling farm products and putting the money in land. Again the boys are either home or will soon be here and they want to settle close to Dad and Mam wants them close to her. We have their orders now and find them difficult to fill. There is really quite a little scramble for farms for March first delivery. Now get busy.

SPECIAL ADDRESSES MADE FOR SOCIETY

At the regular meeting of the Morgan county Medical Society held at the public library a program of unusual interest was carried out. Dr. E. D. Canatsey, president of the society, presided, and after the regular routine of business a communication was read from Miss Carter, executive secretary of the nurses survay work, with reference to the campaign now in progress. The main interest of the session centered about the summarized reports made by Major H. C. Woltman, Capt. Allen King and Dr. Josephine Milligan of the special work in which they have been engaged during the past months. A letter was read from Francis H Shepherdson of the department of registeration and education, seeking information about Dr. W. J. Croziero. Dr. Pitner reported progress with reference to the memorial for the late G. V. Black but asked that he be given assistance on the committee work and Dr. E. F. Baker was appointed. Some paragraphs from the interesting statements made by the three physicians who have recently returned to civilian life are given herewith.

(By Dr. H. C. Woltman.)

It is well to bear in mind that the medical corps of the U. S. army during this war was composed of from 15,000 to 20,000 volunteer medical officers. That the medical work as done in the camps in this country was well done. That the medical officers as a class were a high grade of men.

When they entered the training camps they were made to see that they were expected to be soldiers and able to endure physically what the average private should endure. They were made to march and run to the point of exaustion and in this way they culled out all weak hearts, etc.

Soon after we entered the war Gen. Pershing began sending bulletins to the officers in charge of the camps, instructing them to weed out all inferior material. Among the first of such bulletins was one which prohibited an officer over 45 years old from going overseas; another provided that privates who could not read or write should not be sent as cambatant troops. They might serve in the labor battalions but not as fighting men. Then all shades of nervous troubles were excluded from the ranks of combatant forces, as they could not stand under shell fire. As a result the U. S. army was the best selected, and trained of any army ever put in the field. The fighting qualities of our men has shown that in hand to hand fighting, one American soldier was the equal of about five German soldiers.

The work of the medical officers in the camps was in general either that of a regimental surgeon, or service is a base hospital Generally if a medical officer became attached to a regiment he would remain with that regiment until he was removed for cause; so if a regiment was being prepared for foreign service, the medical officer generally accompanied that regiment and went overseas with it.

If a medical officer should be assigned to a base hospital, he was less liable to see foreign service. There was great disappointment in all the camps when the armistice was signed, not because the war was over, but because so many failed to see foreign service.

The public little realizes what the various epidemics meant in camp. The large numbers of pneumonia following measles and the Empyaema cases were some of the trying problems for the medical officers.

This fall the flu brought another epidemic of pneumonia, and all these diseases are more virulent and more fatal in army camps than in civil life.

Tuberculosis Work In France.

Dr Milligan said:

"I was at a Red Cross hospital at St. Gugenie, one of the suburbs of Lyons. This hospital was for the repatriated women who were tubercular We had cases I went to the hospital 46 cases and when I left there were 80 patients. About one-third of those cases were in the early stages of tuberculosis and with a possibility of being cured. I was there seven weeks and was then loaned by the Red Cross to the Rockefeller commission for the prevention of tuberculosis. The plan of the commission in aiding in the tuberculosis fight in France was to take a certain arrondisement or ward in paris and establish dispensaries with laboratory facilities and X-ray facilities, and with an arrangement made with the Red Cross to send the patients to hospitals and sanatoria near Paris for the special treatment of tuberculosis. And the plan was also to take a department or state of France and carry out our best American plans for fighting tuberculosis in this department, as well as in the arrondisement of Paris.

"The department chosen was the Eure et Loir. The Eure et Loir is divided into four arrondisements or counties and in each one of these four arrondisements the plan was to establish dispensaries, day camps, hospitals and one central sanitorium. The department of the Eure et Loir had 273,000 inhabitants and the arrondisements were Dreux, Chartres, Nogent and Chataudun. I was stationed in the latter, and in this arrondisement there were 61,000 people, just about twice the number of Morgan county inhabitants.

"The plan was to cary on the tuberculosis work there just practically as we are carrying it on here in Morgan county, only we had a good deal more money, as we had the Red Cross and the Rockefeller commission back of it."

Dr. Milligan then gave some scientific facts about the tuberculosis situation in Chateaudun. The work of the physicians stationed there also included the care of the refugees and the care of the French soldirs who had contracted tuberculosis.

Physicans at Ft. Riley

Dr. King stated that during his experience in Ft. Riley, Kans., where he was stationed, that everything pertained to military life. The men carried out every exercise that would aid them in the service overseas. "Upon arrival at Ft. Riley the men were assigned to barracks and formed into companies. On the second day after my arrival the company was taken out on the drill ground two miles away and given a three hours' drill and this procedure was carried out thru the entire course. Beside the drills we had to attend lectures and pass examinations on the work. Every Friday afternoon physicians were required to take equitasion or horseback rdiing, and of course as a great many of the physicians had never ridden a horse it was felt by a great many of them afterward. The horseback riding didn't consist merely of sitting astride a horse at a trot or a walk. It consisted of jumping hurdles, jummping ditches or ravines in cavalry formation.

"In this work an ambulance generally followed the men and there was hardly a Friday but what the ambulance brought back a physician who had fallen off his horse, resulting in a broken arm or leg. This course was given for the physicians as a training, for when they went over to France they were supposed to be able to ride horseback, and as a great many of them had never had any experience in horseback riding the training there came in very handy. The physicians were also required to curry, saddle and bridle their own horses.

Long Hikes.

"Each afternoon, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday, the men were forced to take a hike which ranged from 6 to 8 miles in the country with return trip, or anywhere around 12 to 16 miles in an afternoon's hike. The first week or so was very hard on the men and a great many of them had to drop out. But as the hikes continued the men became harded and missed the hikes if anything interfered so that they could not take place.

"Each Friday morning the men were required to walk a mile and a half to the athletic field and were there given calisthenics which lasted two or three hours. This took place with hats, overcoats, boluses and puttees removed, no matter how cold or how wet or how inclement the weather. This also included scaling walls, hurdling ditches and swinging ring exercises.

Trench Exercises

"After four days in Ft. Riley I was summoned to headquarters and given command of Co. 52 This required a great deal of work and responsibility. But as the days went on the men shaped up in good form and at the end of the course we had an A-1 well drilled company. Beside the military drill work we were required to have trench exercises. We were marched in company formation a mile and a half or two miles to the trenches and given drills in the receiving and taking care of the wounded. Twice a week the men were given gas mask exercises. This included the removal of the gas mask from the sack in which it is carried on the left side, to the adjustment of the mask on the face ready for the gas, which had to be done in eight counts. After the lecturer felt that the men were proficient enough we were then given the gas drils with real gas and unfortunately several of the men who did not adjust their masks in time were gassed, and had to be removed to the hospital. At the time I was at Ft. Riley there was little or no contagion present, as every precaution was taken to guard against it.

"The barracks in which the men slept were mere sheds, accommodating from 65 to 90 men. Every night at 10 o'clock taps were sourded and the men retired. All windows and doors were required to be open so plenty of fresh air would be admitted. At 6 o'clock in the morning we had reveille. Men were required to have setting up exercises for a half hour at 6:30 and mess was at 7, three hours' drill following this each day. The physicians were required not only to take military training but had to study elevation and shell velocity so they could be qualified in pitching field hospital tents to be as nearly safe from the shell fire of the enemy as possible.

Just Like Privates.

Taking it all in all, there was little consideration shown for the health of the physician out in the field or drill. No matter whether it rained, snowed or what the weather, the physician was required, just as was the private, to do his work. The discipline was very exacting and as the physicians had not had any of this probably for years, or at all in their lives, it was very hard. After the armistice was signed the morale at Ft. Riley as in most of the cantonments was very bad and most of the men, seeing that they would not go abroad to help their country, wished to return home You can be assured that when we got our discharges there was a happy lot of doctors there at Ft Riley. For myself I don't regret the experience. It was indeed a benefit to assist one's health, for we certainly derived this from our daily exercise and strict routine."

MODERN SAINTS THEME OF CHAPEL TALK.

"Modern Saints" was the theme of a chapel talk given Friday morning at Illinois Woman's College by Rev. W. E. Collins pastor of the Congregational church.

In the opening paragraphs of his excellent address Mr. Collins emphasized especially the value of the life and work of Theodore Roosevelt whom he said "marched in the van of the champions of Democracy." Even those who did not agree with him politically could not but admire his leadership, the strength of mind and character. Roosevelt, the speaker said, brought a new idea into public life when he combined politics and righteousness.

"Unselfishness is one of our greatest needs in this life and we must combine service with it. The Christian church seeks men and women who will dare to be true to themselves. Others wait for your lead. Christianity is a working religion not a nominal consideration. Roosevelt moulded American life. Jesus Christ colored international life. Can we direct community life?"

SAYS RUSSIA WILL DISAPPEAR FROM MAP

PARIS, —an. 10.—"The animosity of a great majority of the Germans toward Prussia will have a decisive influence on the future configuration of central Europe," said Count von Hertling the former German imperial chancellor, in an interview with the correspondent of the Matin three days before von Hertling's death

"At Munich as at Stuttgart and Cologne, there is resentment against Prussia for having so badly steered the common ship, and let it be understood that by Prussia not the country, but the caste and the political is meant."

"If the present ideas follow their course momentous historical events soon will occur and the name of Prussia will disappear from the map of Europe. In the new federal Germany there will be no place for the disproportionate Prussia, surrounded by feeble satellites. The new Germany will comprise six or seven states, approximately equal in importance."

STATE ROAD PLAN WELL UNDER WAY

By S. E. Bradt, Supt. of Highways In Chicago Tribune

The fact that the $60,000,000 Illinois road bond issue carried by a popular majority of over 500,000 is evidence that the people of this state are thoroughly in earnest in their demand for a system of roads suitable to meet the requirements of modern traffic. The further fact that the proposition was carried by a popular majority in every county of the state shows that the sentiment is not local, but prevails throughout the state and that every community will want relief at the earliest possible moment.

It is not generally understood, however, that certain preliminaries are necessary before construction can be actually begun. While the law names the towns and cities that must be connected by the system, it leaves to the department of public works and building the duty of determining the exact route to be improved between the places named.

Engineering parties making reconnaissance surveys are now at work in different parts of the state collecting information as to available routes, the comparative cost of improving the different routes, the topography and the service wich they will render to the people of the state. With this information the department of public works and buildings will make a definite decision as to the roads to be improved.

Before this is done, however, any person or group of persons who have signified their desire to be heard will be advised of the time and place for such a hearing. When it is remembered that there are 4,800 miles to be thus located people will readily understand that this will require some time.

Another matter preliminary to beginning construction is the decision as to the constitutionality of ahe law. It is expected that this question will be taken before the courts this month and will be carried to the Supreme court for final decision as quickly as possible, but it is not likely that this decision will be reached for several months.

It is conceded by people generally that it would be impossible for us to market 4 per cent state bonds at this time in competition with 4¼ per cent government bonds. It is expected, however, that the unappropriated fund in the state treasury derived from automobile license fees and approximately $6,000,000 by July 1, 1919, will be made available for the improvement of this system of roads either through direct appropriation or through the purchase of these bonds by the state; thus avoiding the necessity for placing bonds upon the market during the early period of construction or before the money market has reached a normal condition.

People also recognize the fact that it would not be consistent with good business management to begin the construction of this system of roads immediately at full speed. We are not far enough from the close of the war to judge as to what conditions will prevail during the construction season of 1919.

While we are waiting to learn what conditions are likely to prevail during the coming season the engineering department is reforming its organization, which has been seriously depleted through enlistment and the operation of the draft. Its forces are now working on reconnaissance and field surveys and the department will be prepared to advertise for bids on several hundred miles of road in the spring if conditions warrant.

SUBSCRIBES $35,000 TO SECURITY LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—John D. Rockefeller was one of the largest individual contributors to the maintenance of the National Security League, S. Stanwood Menken, former president of the league testified here today before the congressional committee investigating the league's activities.

Mr. Menken said Mr. Rockefeller had subscribed $35,000.

A contribution of $40,000 he testified was contributed by Arthur Curtis James of New York, member of the helps, Dodge corporation which has large mining interests. The witness gave the committee a prepared statement concerning the organization of the league designed to show that the body was formed in December, 1914, was not organized for the purpose of advocating the entry of the United States into the war but to advocate a degree of preparedness which he declared would have kept the country out of war.

He declined to answer a question whether he believed the president had conducted the war satisfactorily, but declared that congress had worked for national defense "only under dictation." Only pressure brought to bear by the president he asserted made possible enactment of the army and navy bills and other war measures.

OBITUARY

Miss Viola Reynolds was the daughter of Wm. E. and Georgie Reynolds and was born in Modesto, Ill., Dec. 23, 1899. When about 6 years of age she with her parents moved to a farm in the Asbury neighborhood where she resided until about a year ago when she was united in marriage at Springfield, Ill., Jan. 26, 1918, to Hollie Mayes of the Durbin vicinity, where they lived happily together until the end came, when she departed this life Sunday, Jan. 5, 1919, at Our Savior's hospital, following a brief illness of pneumonia. An infant daughter born a few hours before preceded the mother in death. Viola was a woman of sweet disposition and was loved by all who knew her. She will be greatly missed in her home, as she was always cheerful and ready to lend a helping hand to those near her. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Hollie Mayes, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reynolds, and a host of relatives and friends. Funeral services were held at the undertaking parlors of Williamson & Cody at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday by the Rev. G. W. Randle. The body was taken to the Asbury cemetery where short services were held. Miss Hazel Bell Long sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "When They Ring Those Golden Bells for You and Me." One sad fact was that the husband was ill and unable to attend the funeral of his beloved wife and baby. The flowers were many and beautiful and were cared for by Misses Pearl and Hatie Davis and Hazel Long. The bearers were Messrs. Paul Bourows, Dean Hembrough, George Megginson, Carl Hembrough, Earl Davis and Jesse Vedder.

In Memory of Viola.

Once more a loved one has been taken
From this world of toil and care;
Jesus says: "There's none forsaken
And there is no sorrow there."
Viola loved her home and husband
And the Savior loved her too,
So He tok her to his mansion,
"In the land beyond the blue."
Little darling there was waiting
To welcome Mama home.
Humanity looks on te surface,
God alone can view the heart,
So when He takes us to His mansion,
We will know why we have to part.
Let us say to the ones that love her,
She has only gone before,
Look ever forward to the meeting
On that bright and happy shore.

Anyone who puts off buying farm wagons is going to be disappointed in the price and in fact that they will be unable to get them for a long time to come, factories are still working on government contract work with high priced labor and scarcity of material. We have on hand a few Studebaker Wagons that have been bought a long time and just came in. When they are gone we do not know where we can replace them. This is the very latest type of gas heater, but not so new that it is untried—its efficiency and reliability have been definitely proven.

It operates on the principle of the open fireplace; does not heat from the flame, but from a large cone that is kept red hot by the burning gas and radiates a sufficient warmth to all parts of the room.

GET THE CREAM

A Cream Separator pays for itself with extra money earned by you which you could not obtain without the Separator. Thousands of the best farmers have bought Cream Separators because they found them to be money-makers. Butter fat at $1,450.00 per ton, is not to be over-looked. Out of 100 pounds whole milk by using a Cream Separator you will gain ½ pound of butter fat.

Butter at 60c per pound will give you an average gain of $45 per year. $45.00 pays interest on $800.00 for nearly a year, or the entire cost of a Cream Separator. This is all extra gain made by using a Cream Separator. Besides, making this work a pleasure.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

LITTLE OF INTEREST ON STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—There was no essential change today from the extremely professional and restricted conditions which have thus far this year governed the daily ...ssions of the stock market.

The few definite developments inculded the December tonnage report of the United States Steel corporation showing a decrease of substantially 750,000 tons and a drop in call money, which was in fair supply at 3¾ per cent against the week's high rate of 6 per cent. In addition to United States Steel which represented about 20 per cent of the moderate dealings other prominent stocks embraced the oils, sugars, minor metals and ordinarily inactive specialties.

Rails again remained in the background.

U. S. Steel was under pressure but regained all but a fraction of its loss at the close, when oils and other favorites were at minimum quotations.

Sales amounted to 450,000 shares.

LABOR TROUBLES AFFECT CORN MARKET

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Widespread labor troubles in Argentina which apparently had paralyzed business in that country rallied the corn market today from bearish effects or the removel of the United tSates ban on importation of Argantine corn. Prices closed unsettled January $1.44½ and May $1.35¾ to $1.36, with the final range as a whole ½c off to 1¾c up, compared with 24 hours before. Oats gained ⅜@1¼c.

In provisions the outcome varied from 50c decline to a rise of 32@35c.

Oats showed independent strength chiefly because of a material improvement of the domestic shipping demand.

DUN'S REORT

New York, Jan. 10.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"With the country passing thru the readjustment stakes, after an era of artificial stimulus it is not illogical to look for signs of hesitation and caution. That such evidences are plainly discernable is not a symptom of weakness, nor an indication of dwindling confidence, but is merely a demonstration that noturel forces are again coming into operation. If business has halted perceptibly following a period of unexampled expansion, the check is only one that might have been expected under the new conditions now present and, in its broadest aspects, is not an unwholesome tendency. The fact is that the inevitable economic transformation is proceeding the more smoothly, and will be the more quickly completed, because of the disposition in many quarters to act prudently while great fundamental changes are now in motion and to await a ... determination of the vari... problems of reconstruction. Among these the question of prices is one which compels thoful attention and that about all markets are no longer under the domination of sellers shows in what d... pendulum is swinging. ... clearings $6,884,728,653."

DR. AMES NOW IN STATE WAR SAVINGS WORK

Has Been Appointed Superintendent of Central District for the Current Year—Government to Engage in Educational Movement.

It was announced yesterda that Dr. J. G. Ames has been appointed district superintenden for the W. S. S. state organizatio For a number of months D Ames has been serving as the Morgan county chairman and recently consented to take the post of superintendent of the district, which includes twenty eight counties. It will therefore be necessary for him to give up the county chairmanship. At a meeting of the committee to be held next week a successor to Dr. Ames will be chosen.

To Have Office Here

As district superintendent Dr. Ames will spend nearly all of his time away from Jacksonville, altho he will maintain an office here which will be in the 7th floor of the Ayers National Bank building. It was announced some time since that Dr. Ames had been granted leave of absence for a year from the Ilinois college faculty, in order to engage in Y. M. C. A. work overseas. There was some delay in having favorable action taken upon his appointment for this work but the appointment was approved some two weeks ago and he was waiting for final instructions to report in New York for overseas duty.

It was while in Chicago with the intention of completing his final arrangements for the Y. M. C. A. work that Mr. Matthews and Mr. Ryerson of the state W. S. S. organization asked Dr. Ames to take the district chairmanship and presented various arguments which in their view made it certain that he would be giving more of real service to the government by undertaking the W. S. S. work than by going overseas at this time. After giving the matter full consideration Dr. Ames determined to follow the suggestion and, as indicated, will not enter the Y. M. C. A. work as anticipated, but will instead conduct the War Savings Stamp and Certificate work in the district mentioned.

Is Educational Work.

The work in which he will engage is more educational than financial. He is to plan organizations not so much for the sale of government securities but for the purpose of emphasizing lessons in thrift. The government will carry on a country-wide campaign for the formation of War Saving societies. The thought behin the movement is that the lesson of the war with reference to economy and thrift should not be los or forgotten. Some of the wor will be conducted thru state departments of public instruction and other lines will be pushed thru the War Savings societies which are designed especially for adults.

It is of course hoped that thru the habits of thrift and saving that the people will be led to buy liberty bonds, war savings stamps and certificates and other government securities that may be offered. But the primary object is to inculcate the thrift habit.

Dr. Ames has made an excellent record with the Morgan county organization and will carry a great deal of enthusiasm and ability into his work thruout the district.

He then opened a gas fitting shop of his own and later formed a partnership with Philip Brand under the style of Armstrong & Brand.

The partnership was dissolved after which Mr. Armstrong was appointed city engineer, a place he filled with great ability for a number of years when he was displaced and worked awhile at his trade. For some years he had not done anything owing to the infirmities of age.
